Admission Policy

The Graduate School of Life Science provides students with the training that allows them to acquire an interdisciplinary knowledge of advanced life science, from the level of molecules to organisms. We provide comprehensive education with participation by instructors specialized in fields in the basic and applied life sciences, science, pharmaceutical science, medicine, and agriculture.

<The Division of Clinical Pharmacy>

The mission of this division is to train researchers and technicians in medical and clinical pharmacy, providing them with the competence and technical skills to expeditiously identify problems that arise in clinical practice and to solve them using the basic theory and techniques of pharmaceutical science. The Division of Clinical Pharmacy is closely allied with the Master's and Doctoral Courses in Biomedical and Pharmaceutical Science (Division of Life Science), which provide graduates with the flexibility to adjust to social expansion of the pharmaceutical system; give them the training and background necessary to elucidate the molecular mechanisms of disease; and teach them how to use these results to develop theories and techniques in the discovery of new drugs.

To realize these goals, we seek students who 1) can commit to learning state-of-the-art drug development and basic medical and pharmaceutical science, and 2) aim to become leading health care workers with sufficient experimental and analytical skills to apply what they learn in practical clinical situations.

Extending the Period of Registration

1. Aims

When students under special circumstances such as having a job, etc. (including child and nursing care) have asked for an extension to complete the program for a period exceeding the standard years of study (4 years) with a scheduled plan of study, such scheduled study (hereinafter referred to as "Extended Period of Registration") may be approved after reviewing their application.

2. Intended Students

Students who fall under one of the criteria below and for that reason, wish to set the study period longer than the standard period to complete an academic (research) course:

- (1) Have a full-time job in a public office or company (excluding those who are exempt from job duty but receive a salary), or are self-employed;
- (2) Have a part-time job that has a significant influence on the full-time academic work;
- (3) Are taking care of children or other family members, which has a significant influence on the full-time academic work; or
- (4) Are visually impaired, hearing impaired, physically handicapped, etc., which are deemed to have a significant influence on the academic work for an extended period of time.

3. Attendance Period

The period approved for the Extended Period of Registration is up to 6 years for the doctoral degree program, and a student can apply for extension by the year.

Students may take a temporary leave of absence from school for up to 4 years, the same as the students under the standard period of study.

4. Application Procedure

(1) Application Period

Please submit complete application documents for Extended Period of Registration and for the entrance examination together.

(2) Required Documents

- ① Application Form for Extended Period of Registration (Form 1)
- ② Research Plan Under Extended Period of Registration (Form 2)
- ③ Documents to prove that an applicant needs to apply for Extended Period of Registration (discretionary format).

(3) Announcement of Application Results

The Graduate School of Life Science reviews each application individually and will notify the results to all the successful applicants of the entrance examination.

5. Annual Tuition Fee

The annual tuition fee is determined by the calculation below for every year of the term.

$$\text{Annual tuition fee for students approved to study for an extended period} = \text{Annual tuition fee for his/her attending year} \times \frac{\text{Regular course term (4 years)}}{\text{Number of years approved for extended study (years)}}$$

6. Other Information

For the details about Extended Period of Registration and request for application documents, please contact the Graduate School Educational Affairs Section, Science and Life Science Administration Department, Hokkaido University.
